TO THE READER.

How considerable such things as the Law approves of, appear to the world, manifest enough by the frequent attempts of this kind that have with too little seriousness been made: Amendment whereof (with modesty it spoken) hath been the chief intention of this small tractate: For as the Voluntiousness of some, and difficulty of others, hath rather founded then helped the Young Inquirer: I hope the plainness of this, in so easie and usual delineations of Forms, will not onely take away what before was obscure, but lay it obvious to every Ingenious Learner; being furnished with that Variety, that will suit as well the fancy, as the occasions of all men, if either the distance of their abode, or halt of their business will not permit them further advice.

We court you not with a Title, onely in short let you know that the use of this Book is this, You have all the Names both of Men and Women, varied according to their use in Latine in a you to the true understand-and sums of Money from the least to the greatest. It carries you to a delectable gather Presidents to fit your appetite upon any account.

In short, it is like a fertile and well manured Soil, that produce a full satisfaction to the longing of the labouring with less charge, you shall have greater satisfaction.

And I am confident the certainty is not to be attai-with the conveniency of

The Almanack explained

Having on the upper part the Months, and under them the Figures for the days of the Month from 1 to 31, under them your Dominical Letters, and in the lower part the Letters for the days of the Week, from Sunday to Saturday, on each side you have the year of our Lord from 1660, till 1687. on each side of them is your Dominical Letters. Now to know your day, first find out your year, next your Dominical Letter against that year, which Letter find in the lower part of your Almanack, and the Letter

Of the Almanack.

Letter under that is the day of the Week, for your observation for the whole year. Only every Leap year you have two Dominical Letters, which you are to observe, the first for January and February, and the next for all the year after.

Example.

IN the year 1660. you find the Letters A G, which direct you to Saturday for January and February, and G to Sunday for all the year after: so that you find the first Sunday in January is the 7 day, and under that Saturday is set for that Month, and under of Fe-

February 4 is the first Sundays for that Month. In March you must observe which directs you to Sunday so that the first Sunday March is the 4 day, and you reckon forward to June and July, the first Sunday the first day of the Month, & so of the rest. In the year 1661, you find your Dominical Letter F, which directs you to Monday, which is your observation for that year, and so you find the rest; and when you are at 1687, you may begin again.

M
Points

Points of Law concerning Lord and Tenant, &c.

1. IF the Lord take away any part of the demised premises, and exclude Tenants by walls, &c. It is an extinguishment of his Rent.

2. If a Landlord covenant with his Tenant to rebuild any Room, & do not, whereby the Tenant receiveth loss the tenant may have an action upon the Case, upon his Paroll-Covenant, wherein he may recover what he can prove himself to be damaged.

3. If

3. If the Landlord hath manure lying in the ground of the Tenant, and except it not at the demise, the Tenant may dispose the same as he shall see cause for his own conveniency, for being a place for a manure hill, the Tenants necessity will require use of it, and that the Tenant may better and safer dispose it, let him mix some of his own manure with it, and then he may either sell it, or lay it upon what ground he will.

4. The Landlord digs a Sawpit, &c. After the ground let; it is the Tenants, and he may have an action against any that during that time

without his consent meddle with it.

5. The Landlord after the demise lops, tops, cuts, and sells timber, willowes, lowes, thornes, and other wood, during the Lease the Landlord cannot without consent of the Tenant, meddle with the woods, nor being excepted in the Lease.

6. The Tenant may cut any Waterboughs, Thorns, Willowes, Alders, &c, for necessary Hedgebote, Firebote, but not to sell, and he left ashes, 'tis an action of waste in the Tenant.

7. If the Landlord lay hay in any room of the Tenant &c. and the Tenants man or maid and of himself fodder his cattle with it, what remedy hath the Landlord against his Tenant, and the Tenant against the Landlord?

An Action lyeth against the Lord, for laying his hay there; but the property of the hay is still notwithstanding in the Landlord, and if the Tenant fodder his Cattle with it, the Lord hath his Action.

8. If a man let a Cow to hire, and after take her to the market to sell, and do not, an action Trespass lieth against the Owner for driving of her to the Market.

9. If he to whom the Cow is letten, sell the Cow, and

and render the money to the Owner, what danger to him that sold her ?

The Cow is to be returned, and not her price, and if the Lord refuse the price he may bring his action, but shall recover but her worth.

10. If the Lord promise to put in repair any house &c. and do not, if any of them fall down for want of mending, what remedy but the Landlord against his Tenant for not repairing the same.

If any of these things that the Lord was first to put in repair, and did not decay, the Tenant is not bound to repair them ; and if by permission million they come to ruine, is the Landlords fault, and the Tenant is free.

11. If the Landlord promise to fence in a piece of Ground where the Tenant is to sowe Hemp and Corn, and do not, but so as the Tenants Goods cannot be kept.

An action upon the case lieth against the Lord upon the promise.

12. Cutting up Timber trees, Fruit trees, Hedgerow trees that shelter the houses are waste, the Tenant hath interest in the rest, if not excepted.

13. A. B. hath his Horse strayed from him, and findes

him in the custody of C. D. and demands him of him finding him in his draught. C. D. will not deliver him without 8 d. a week allowance, and by delayes detain the Horse till the year is expired.

A. B. may recover his Horse by Detinue or action upon action of Trover and conversion, wherein he must prove the property of the Horse to be his, and the other will be allowed fitting recompence for his food but no longer there untill he was owned, and amends tendered.

14. If a Tenant upon Arbitrement give a release

To the Land'ord, whether will that release free any other that the Landlord hath caused to wrong the tenant?
To that for any thing that any other hath done jointly with the Lord wherein the Tenant was indamaged, this release may be pleaded in law, but not in actions done by any other without the Lords joyning.

V Heras we are informed there are divers Persons belonging to the Trade Trade of Book-selling in London out of a malicious & covetous humour, endeavor to make all their own that have acceptance in the world, as we may justly hope by the general use and convenience of the Volume, this Pocket what they can to disparage it.

These are to let them un-re-print or otherwise dispa-have been so careful to ob-of ours in London, as may do
